The recent arrests in Taiwan of persons suspected of subversive activities included members of two major groups, as follows:

a. WU Shih (吳石) is the principal figure in the first group. * He was in contact with HSIEH Hsueh-hung (謝雪紅) concerning an operation which involved subversion of the Navy through WU's influence with Fukienese officers. The plot also included the smuggling of arms, equipment, and personnel in junks from the mainland to the east coast of Taiwan.

b. The second group consists of approximately six hundred junior officers of the 60 and 80 Armies and the Fengshan Training Center. Their organization was called the Kuo Hun She (國魂社) and directed its activities against the CC Clique and CH'EN Ch'eng.
